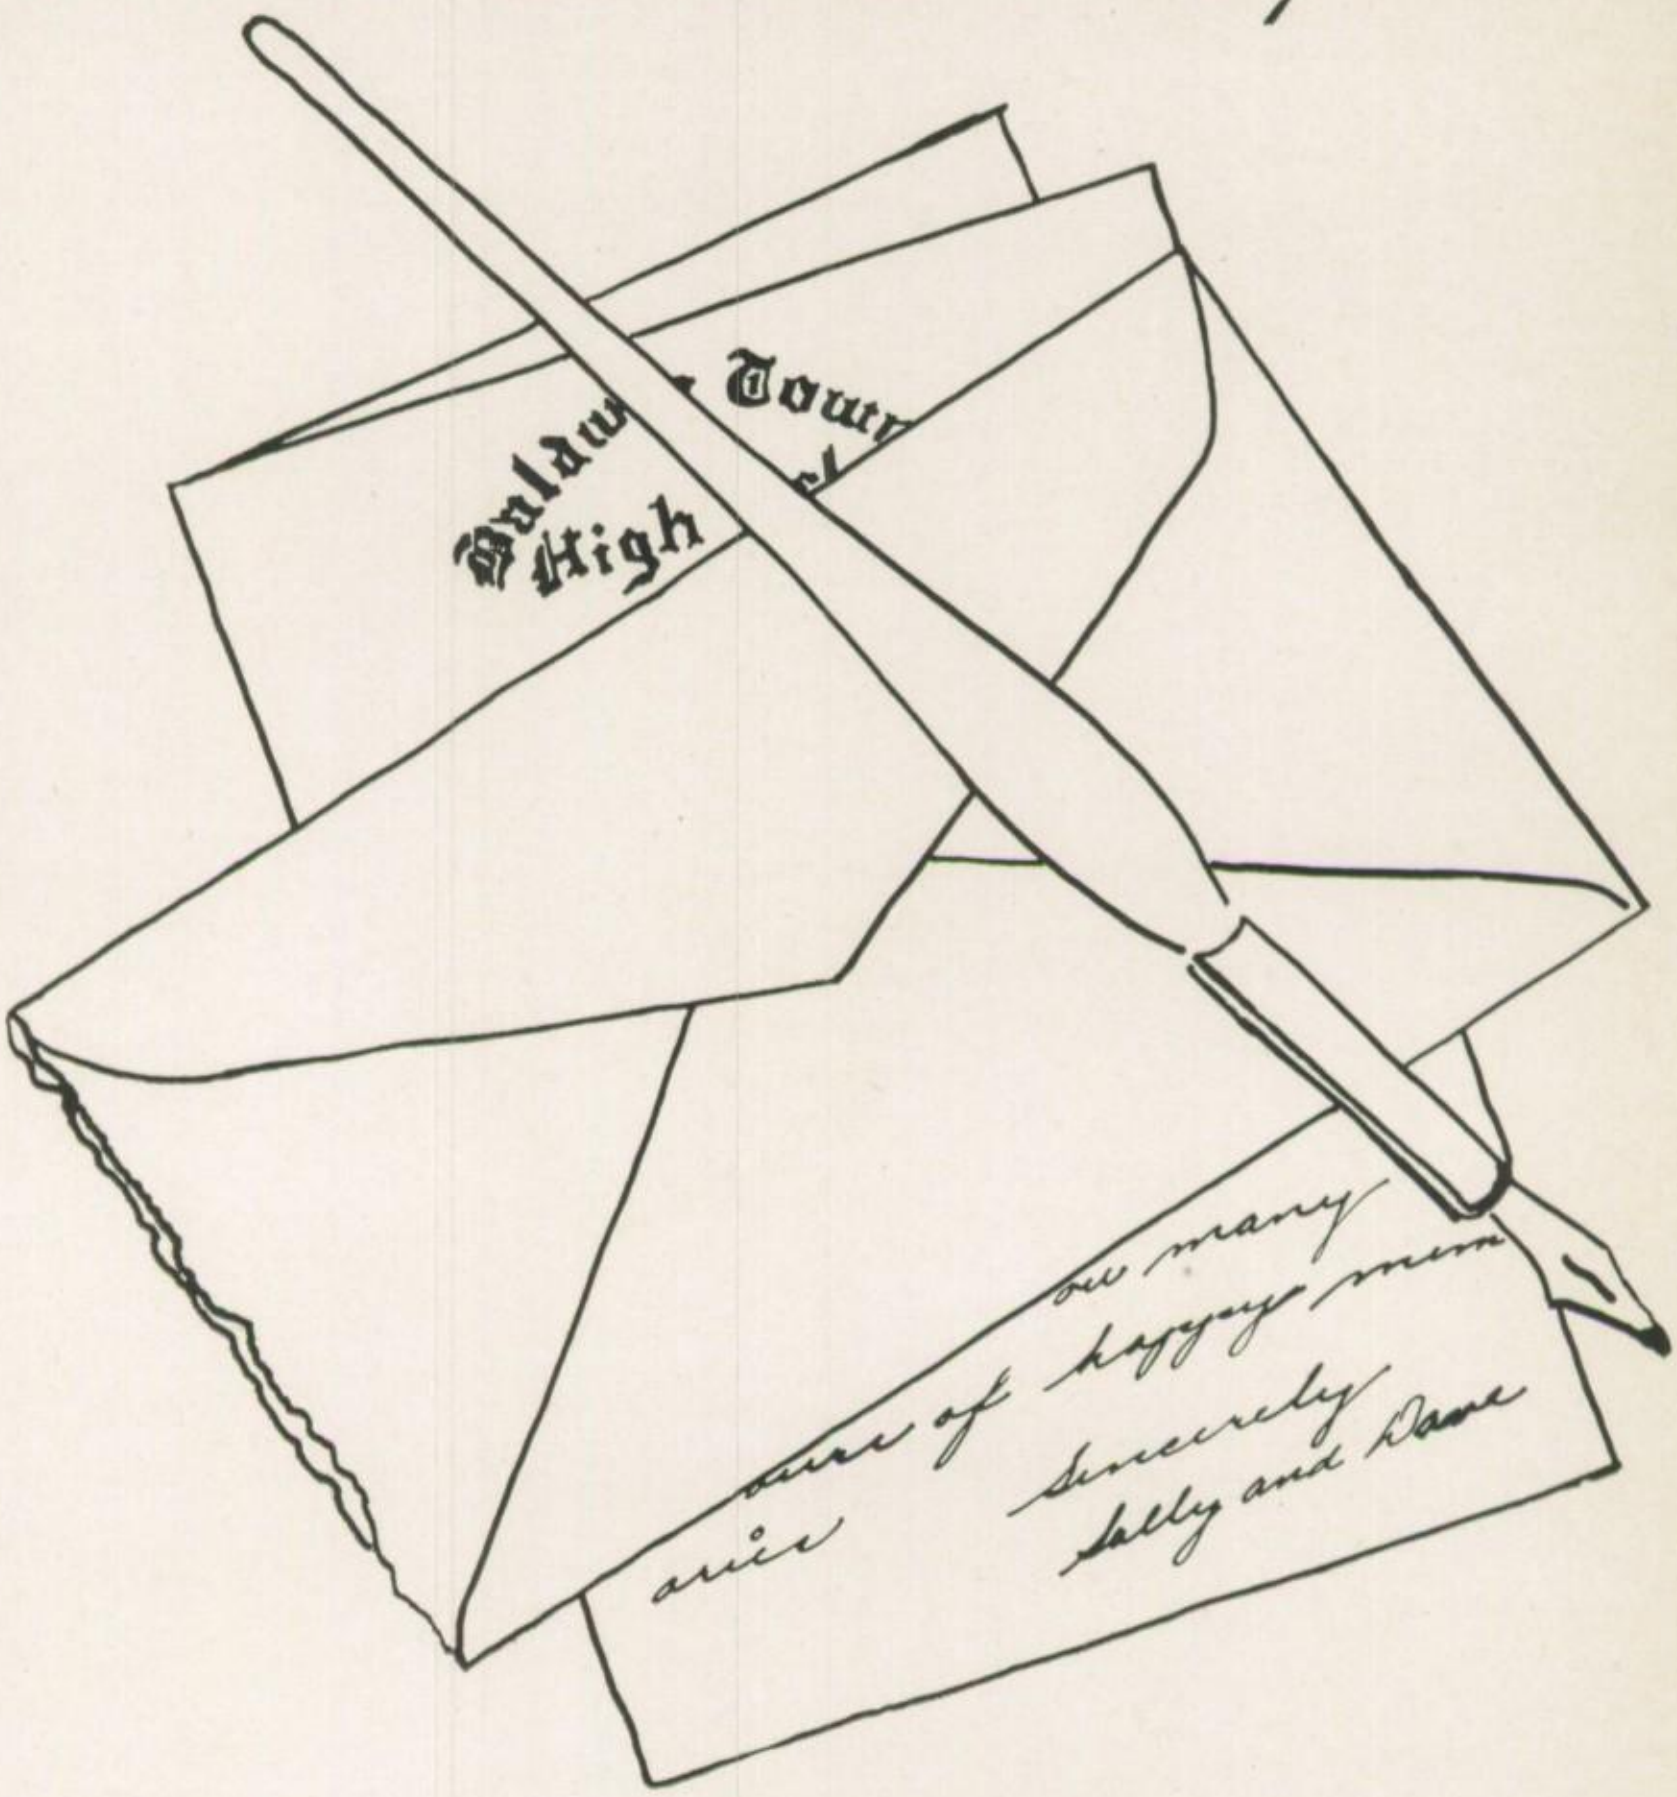
The Nineteen Hundred and Forty Three



Batthi

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS OF THE
BALDWIN TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL OF
PITTSBURGH, PENNSYLVANIA

Dedicated To

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ WARREN R. MALEY, Principal

Seemingly indefatigable in his work, you find him insuring a firm scholastic foundation for us and a school program that provides an apportunity for everyone to participate in the extra-curricular activities and social life. Regardless of his responsibilities, he is never too busy for a cheery "hello" or a piece of advice. His guidance and sympathetic understanding are qualities which have endeared him to the entire student body. Without his ever constant presence Baldwin would seem devoid of a great part of all that we have come to accept as our rightful school life.

It is in recognition of his devoted service to our school and to express our appreciation for his kindness to us that we, the class of '43, respectfully dedicate this book to our principal, Mr. Warren Maley.

Foreword

Day by day graduates of Baldwin leave to serve in the Armed Forces. With this thought in mind we have chosen to send a letter, describing our school life, to an alumnus in the service, whom we address as Jack. It is supposedly written by two members of the 1943 class.

Jack, we believe, would be interested in hearing how his old Alma Mater is progressing, and how those he remembers as underclassmen are carrying on in his place. To add to the familiarity of our book we have, in each division, selected song titles that are popular around Baldwin, along with a few that might have been his favorites when he was still a student.

For Jack, representing our alumni fighting to save their country, for all Baldwinites who are or will be in the service, and for you, we hope the Balthi will be a lasting remembrance of this first class to complete a full high school career in Baldwin.

ADMINISTRATION

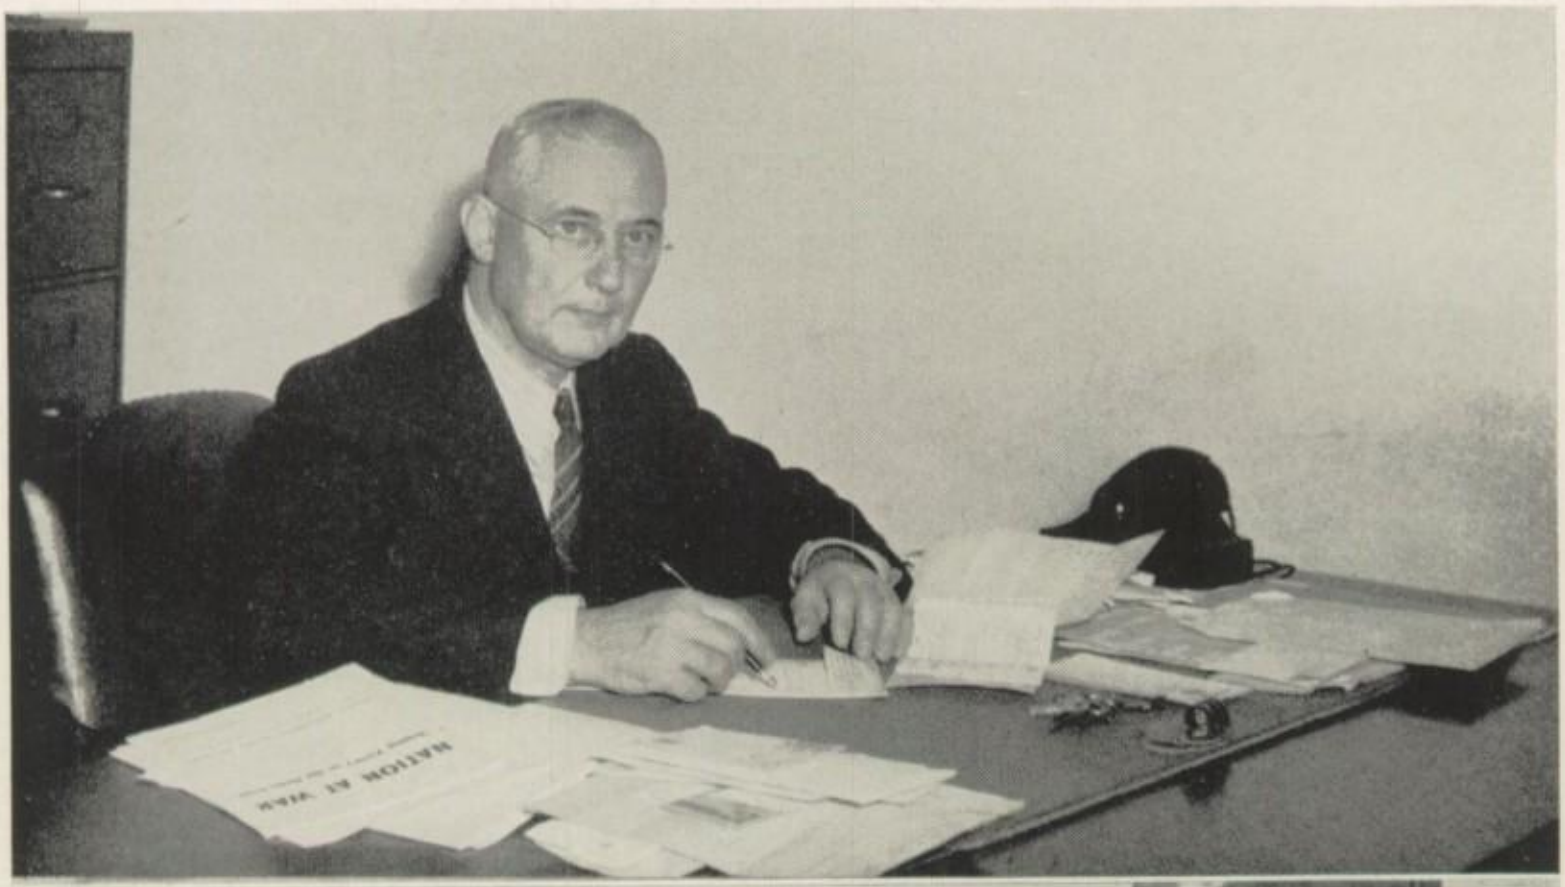
Dear Jack,

We have our troubles between Uncle Sam and Dan Cupid, but Balawin will never be without an administrative force. The newcomers are as much a part of the family as the original teachers. We're grateful for their patience and proud of the trust they place in us. You'd appreciate a faculty like this, we're sure.

Sincerely,
Sally and Dave

"In Your Own Quiet Way"



Supervising and directing the education of Baldwin Township has been the task of Mr. Charles G. Gibson for the past nineteen years. Although his duties are very demanding, he is always ready to discuss any problems confronting students or faculty, giving them cheerful consideration. Farming and traveling are a means of relaxation from his responsibilities.

The group of people responsible for the welfare and progress of Baldwin High School are—Elmer Peterson, Elmer Anderson, Bertha Kline, H. Beam Wilson, William W. Dryer, Louis Peach, Secretary, James C. Kurtz, Anna Nugent (sitting) members of our school Board. Standing are— Warren R. Maley, Principal; Conrad Welsch, truant officer; Charles G. Gibson, supervising principal; and Irwin Tryan, former Solicitor. Edward R. Lawrence is the Solicitor at present.

Carol Welsch
W. R. Maley

Dorothy Nugent
W. C. Brantonies

Miss Dorothy Nugent and Miss Carol Welsch are the secretaries serving the principals, faculty and students. Through their efforts the files and records are kept in order, and information concerning students and activities is available at all times.

Mr. Maley, our principal, and Mr. Brandtonies, our new vice principal, have many interests shared by the students, making them top rankers on Baldwin's hit parade. As a result a feeling of friendship and understanding exists between the leaders and the student body. Both of the principals enjoy sports, similar reading material, and indulge in comparable pastimes.

CLASSES

Dear Jack,

We want you to meet our seniors of 1943, the leading characters in this book. Perhaps some of them are already old friends. Of course, the school wouldn't be complete without our other players and you will notice how many members we have in the junior high. We look forward with them to the days when they will experience the proud feeling of being a senior at Palamine.

Sincerely,
Sally and Dave

" 'Bye Now"

In Memoriam

In 1940 our class was saddened by the loss of one of its outstanding students, Emil Geyser. In his memory the Balthi publishes a poem printed by the Purbalite at the time of his death.

Your face no longer do we see,
For you have gone away,
Your smile, your voice, your happy glee
Will not be here to-day.

Your friendly ways, your cheery smile,
The carefree look you wore,
Will yet, in mem'ry all the while,
Come back to us once more.

Though some may think of you as dead,
And say your life is done,
We know that they have been misled
Your life has just begun!

A life that's spent in blissful peace
Far from the paths we roam,
In a place where joys will never cease
For God has called you home.

—Dolores Schultis.

ORGANIZATIONS

Dear Jack,

This year's activities parade was enough to make any socially-minded Baldwinite spin. School publications kept some of us stepping — music, too, and we got results. Our secret societies entertained well and often. We are campaigning for bigger and better organizations like those we have now. Introducing the people who do things!

Sincerely,

Sally and Dave

"Memories Of You"

The Balthi

The '43 Balthi is an attempt to depart from the conventional style of yearbooks in the past. Through our theme, phases of school life described in letters to an alumnus and varied with song titles, we have endeavored to give you an informal remembrance of Baldwin.

Without the steadfast assistance of our sponsors we could not present this book to you. The staff, on behalf of the Senior class, would like to take this opportunity to express its gratitude to them. From the moment the first publicity campaign began and our dance was held until it went to press, the Balthi has been a source of puzzlement—yet certainty, distress —yet pleasure but its final publication brings us a glow of satisfaction. We sincerely hope you will receive it favorably.

"What's New?"

Purbalite

EXTRA, EXTRA — Get your latest issue of the Purbalite. This is a familiar phrase around Baldwin when our school newspaper makes its monthly appearance. The Purbalite has successfully kept its student public informed of the latest news in the form of school events even to the most recent gossip, and has become a vital part of our extra-curricular life.

A dinner was planned for the members of the staff who contributed their time and effort to make the paper a successful venture and a pleasure to the student body. In the attempt to make the proverbial deadline, the students of the staff, listed below, found personal enjoyment in journalistic work.

Student Senate

OFFICERS:

	First Semester	Second Semester
President	Bruce Summers	Bruce Summers
Vice President	Virginia Ready	Margaret Barati
Secretary	Jack O'Toole	Patricia Wolfe
Asst. Secretary	Patricia Wolfe	Virginia Ready
Sponsor		Mrs. Mary Deer

The need for a Student Council was recognized early in the history of Baldwin, and in 1941 we were represented in a state-wide conference. However, not until the following year was direct action taken. In the spring of 1942 twelve students attended another conference held at South High School.

Immediately following this meeting, a committee was formed of those attending the conference of which Kenneth Arthur was chairman. A constitution was drawn up and on May 18, 1942 it was adopted by the school. The following September the Student Senate elected officers, each homeroom elected representatives and alternates, and the group was ready to begin action.

Numerous beneficial campaigns were carried out by the Senate, including drives for patriotic causes, betterment of school conduct, tea dances and an activities period. In November the Senate social committee sponsored an extremely successful dance, and along with the proceeds derived from selling candy at games, accumulated some funds for the treasury.

The part the Senate will play in each pupil's life will be more noticable each year. But, for the present, it has made the necessary niche for a strong foothold.

"There'll Be Some Changes Made"

Chorus

OFFICERS:

President ---------- James Skyrms
Vice President ---------- Virginia Ackman
Secretary-Treasurer ---------- Edward Rudolph
Sponsor ---------- Mr. Richard Fleming

Whenever any special entertainment is needed the chorus is always willing to oblige. Under Mr. Richard Fleming's training the members have developed their musical skill by increasing their love of vocal artistry. The chorus ably assisted with many assemblies and at the principals' conference presented an enjoyable program for the visitors. At Christmas time their skillful blending of voices as the background for the 12-1 play, "Why the Chimes Rang," made it a fitting tribute to the spirit of Christmas. Concerts were presented in co-operation with several district high schools. Late in the year, and for the first time, officers of the chorus were elected to facilitate action on planned activities.

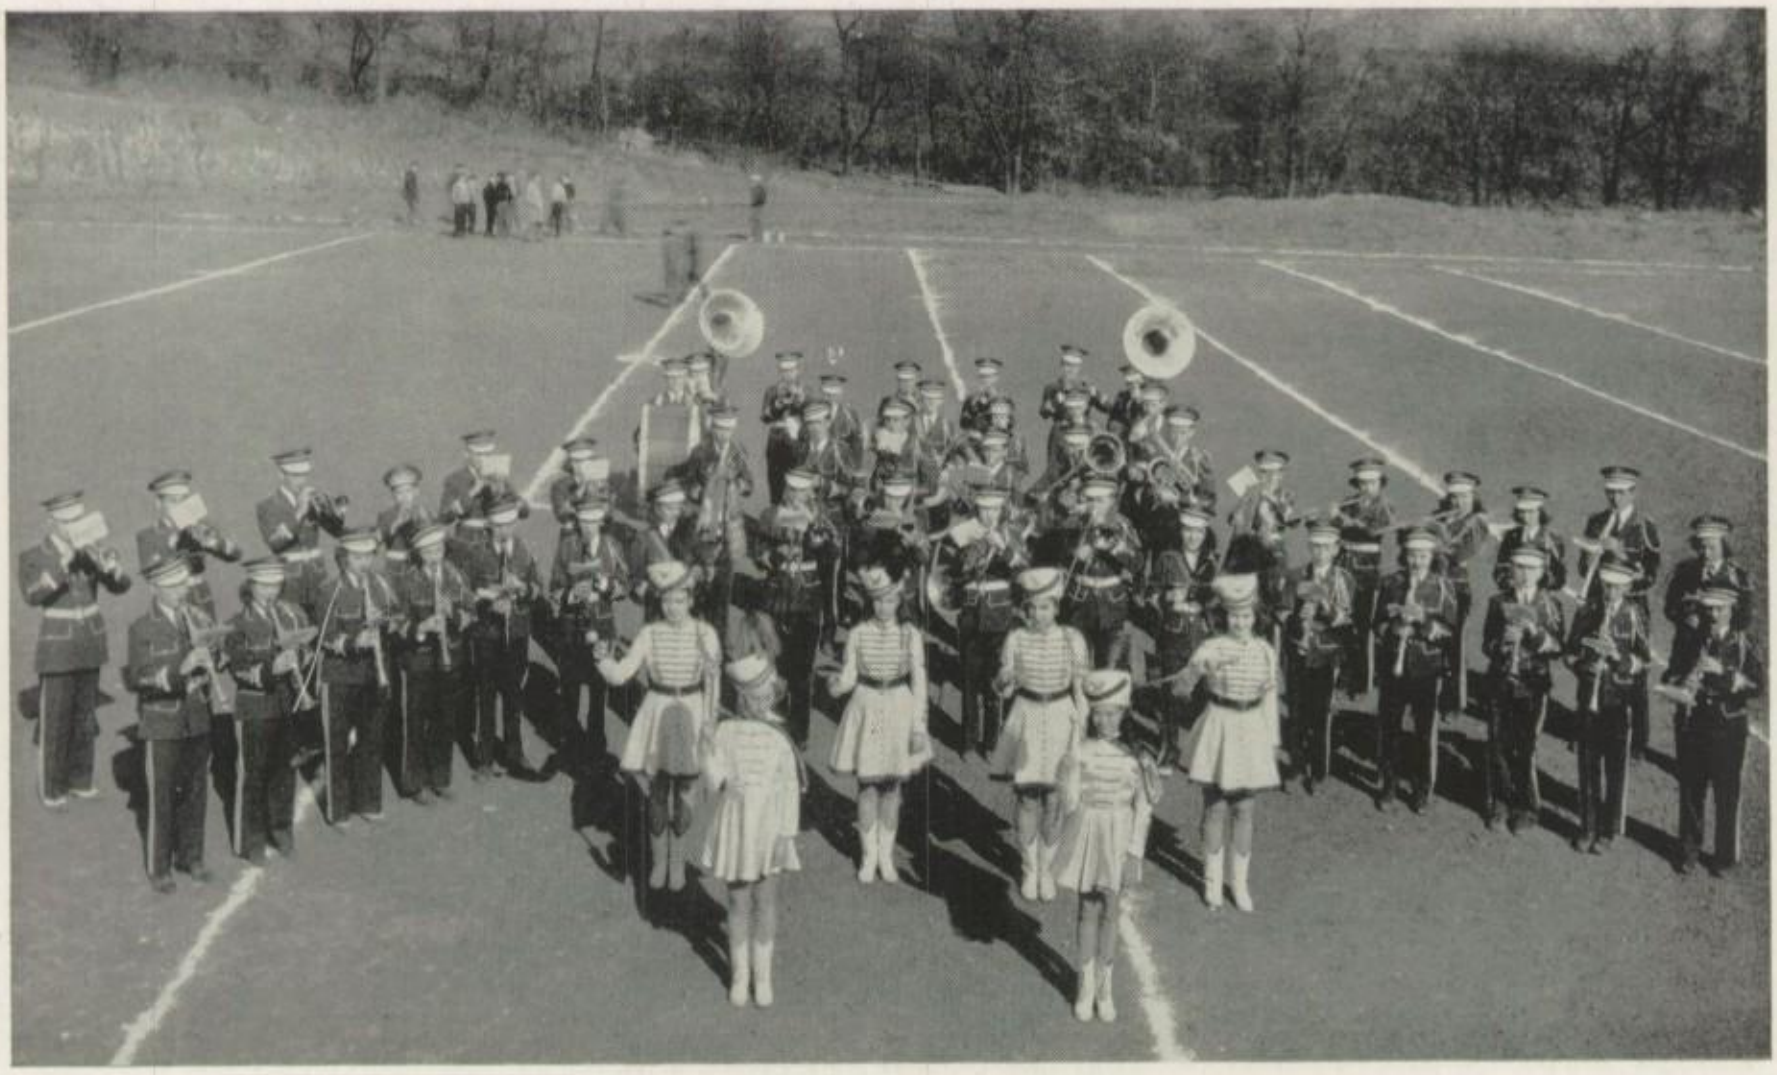
"And The Band Played On"



Band

OFFICERS:

President	William Crawford
Vice President	Robert MacLean
Secretary	Helen Grossman
Treasurer	James Skyrms
Sponsor	Mr. Richard E. Fleming

With the departure of Mr. Emil Bernowski, last year's music director, to the armed service, a new leader for this department was in demand. Answering to the need, Mr. Richard E. Fleming was added to our faculty in September. Under his competent instruction, our band, composed of 57 members, has kept up its commendable work throughout the year. Along with the parading at football games in the fall, the band participated in several War Bond drives, entertained draftees from the Baldwin Township area by giving concerts, and played for dedication ceremonies held in Curry and Brentwood.

William Crawford (trumpet), Robert MacLean (drum), and James Skyrms (French horn), three members of our band, had the distinct honor of playing in the Tenth All State Band. Music will never be a lost art in Baldwin as long as there are so many students ready and willing to keep it alive.

Delta Sigma Psi

OFFICERS:

President ---------- Helen Grossman
Vice President ---------- Virginia Ackman
Secretary ---------- Jean Jarvis
Treasurer ---------- Ruth Butelli
Sponsor ---------- Miss Grace Maley

When it comes to going places and doing things, the Delta girls really make progress. Their club was composed of twenty active members during the year and new pledges were added in the spring.

Every other Wednesday the Delt girls meet after school, then usually go bowling. The sorority tries to have a party each month near the occasion of some holiday. A "hen" party heralded the New Year. The Military Ball sponsored by both sororities was the paramount event of the spring schedule. No matter what activity the Deltas sponsored the girls provided an enjoyable time for their guests as well as themselves. It will be with real regret that the nine graduating members bid farewell to their sorority sisters.

The following members were not present when the picture was taken: Audrey Lechner and Shirley MacDonald.

Iota Mu Tau

OFFICERS:

President ---------- Nancy Casey
Vice President ---------- Marian Dudt
Secretary ---------- Suzanne Lachman
Treasurer ---------- Norma Adams
Sponsor ---------- Miss Beatrice Cornforth

Memories—sentimental, gay, and happy memories will remain with the '43 Iotas in years to come. They will recall their secret sisters, their initiations, and their semi-monthly evening meeting at the homes of the girls where they planned their social events, and, lest we forget—their Johnny Jeep hats.

Last May the underclass girls had a picnic dinner for the graduating members and added five new pledges to their group. These pledges were initiated in September. Once again in February the group was increased by six new members who are Mildred Arthur, Ruth Cook, Marion Fisher, Quita Hill, Betty Miller, and Dorothy Oliver.

At Christmas the second annual Anniversary party was held by the club in honor of the alumnae and during vacation they had a pajama party. Eagerly awaited was the Military Ball sponsored in cooperation with the Delta Sigma Psi in April. Swimming, theatre parties and bowling were activities enjoyed throughout their year of friendship and sociality.

"I Only Want A Buddy, Not A Sweetheart"

The following members were not present when the picture was taken: Richard Magner, Ferdie Galardini, Arthur Collins.

Delta Phi Delta

OFFICERS:

President	James Grimes
Vice President	James Skyrms
Secretary	Robert MacLean
Treasurer	Richard Magner
Sponsor	Mr. Richard Fleming

"Socialites and Sportsmen," that's what we call the boys representing the Delta Phi Delta fraternity. With Mr. Fleming as the '43 sponsor, this strictly "men only" club has had an active year with frequent get-together parties.

The Delta boys sponsored a successful dance in the fall inviting the sororities to dance along with them to the music of Phil Walton. The fraternity created quite a rage with the appearance of their sweaters with insignia complete. A basketball team, organized to compete with other club teams, chalked up some victories, some defeats and plenty of good times.

Gunther Peterle was the first brother to depart for the armed service this year, as he left in February and was followed shortly by James Grimes. The seniors leaving this year will look back on a memorable year of activity and fun.

Varsity Letter Club

OFFICERS:

President ---------- Harold Lloyd
Vice President ---------- Stanley Bieltz
Secretary ---------- Edward Lemish
Treasurer ---------- Peter Barr
Sponsor ---------- Mr. Benjamin Wilkinson

Although this organization is not a prominent one in Baldwin, it has become an established tradition with us. Eligible for membership are those who have gained letters in the sports of the school including football, golf, soccer, basketball, and track. Its purpose is to discuss rules and procedures of seasonal sports and those of interest to the members.

The club was under the leadership of Coach Schricker and at his departure Mr. Wilkinson took over its leadership.

"Proud Of You"

The following members were not present when the picture was taken: Peter Barr, Michael Carr, Clarence Keener, Lloyd Kraus, Melvin Bingey, Donald Bindyke, Charles Bametzrieder, Frank LaVecchia, Harold Lloyd.

Hi-Y

OFFICERS:

President	Arthur Schwotzer
Vice President	Lloyd Kraus
Secretary	Robert Karl
Treasurer	Peter Barr
Sponsor	Mr. Bernard McNish

1943 has been the most active year to date for the Hi-Y. An increased membership, more meetings and a renewed interest are responsible for this. Mr. Bernard McNish has assumed the sponsorship of the Hi-Y to help the members proceed with their aim of cleaner living and higher ideals. The club is under the supervision of the Y.M.C.A. in Pittsburgh.

A gym period and meeting are held every other Monday evening in addition to regular Wednesday meetings. The 25 boys completed an obstacle course which was used by all the gym classes. A basketball team was organized for intra-school rivalry which provided entertainment for all the sport-conscious members. On February 15th the club sponsored a Valentine's Dance featuring a novel jitterbug contest. The Hi-Y offers splendid opportunities for fine companionship among boys and well deserves the recognition it has gained.

Literary Club

OFFICERS:

President	Jack O'Toole
Vice President	Gloria Squires
Secretary-Treasurer	Helen Imbrogno
Sponsor	Miss Mai Emery

Something new and something different has been added at Baldwin, the Literary Club. Eleven students from the junior class comprise its membership. The group was first organized in October under the sponsorship of Miss Emery. Their purpose is a worthwhile one—to give more interesting assemblies and to develop a wider acquaintance with reading and drama.

Their first activity was to assist Miss Fergus in the presentation of a unique assembly program in celebration of Book Week. They have attended plays and at one time had the pleasure of personally meeting Boris Karloff backstage. The members carried out their purposeful work the entire year with enthusiasm.

"I Love A Parade"

Drum Major And Majorettes

Strutting proudly in front of our band the Drum Major and Majorettes provided enlivening diversion for the spectators at football games. No game would be complete without Robert MacLean as the Drum Major, Eileen Barnes, Lucille Lacey, Shirley MacDonald, and Dorothy Parinella as Drum Majorettes, while our two mascots Phyllis Hagaman and Betty Orton perfect the picture as they gayly wave their batons in the air. Bob, Lucille and Dorothy are graduating and Eileen left us for Florida but it will be a long time before their fellow students will forget their lively entertainment.

ATHLETICS

Dear Jack,

If you want to strut proudly, take a look at our score-sheets for this athletic season. The boys came out with a fifty-fifty record and they worked for it. They were mighty sorry to turn in the dirty jerseys that brought so much glory to the old Alma Mater. Don't forget the cheer-leaders when you think of basket-ball. Hope you like them.

Sincerely

Sally and Dave

Football

Measured by any yard markers or judged from any angle, Baldwin's football team surpassed that of former seasons. Although the score board revealed 4 wins and 4 losses the gridiron Highlanders smashed all records of past years in speed and caliber.

The squad had for its nucleus captain Harold Lloyd and Stanley Beiltz in the backfield, while the line revolved around Peter Barr and John Hanley. Lloyd's playing was spectacular all season, drawing considerable comment from opposing coaches and teams. Baldwin had a fighting line from which Hanley and Barr led their teams by superb tackles and furious charging. These boys mentioned were those who gained attention from everyone on their brilliant football. There were others, whether veterans or newcomers, that displayed football greatness when they played.

Twelve will be awarded B's this season. The boys remaining will be the foundation for next year's squad and their work this season indicates hope for a well balanced team.

"You're The Only Star"

FOOTBALL GAMES

Presented below is a brief summary of each game:

Baldwin 13—Alumni 0

On Friday, September 18 the varsity opened its season with a 13-0 victory over a stubborn Alumni team. Baldwin's first score came on a pass from Lloyd to Nort, Valdiserri kicked the extra point. A few minutes later Lloyd Kraus intercepted a desperate Alumni pass and raced the second and final score to vanquish the departed stars.

Baldwin 20— Bethel 6

Baldwin again struck the jackpot when they played Bethel October 1. For the "Highlanders" defeated the Bethel squad after a rough tussel. The Highlanders completely outplayed their rivals, who were handicapped by a lack of reserve strength and a light line. Baldwin's touchdowns were scored by Lloyd (2) and Nort. Bieltz and Valdiserri added the extra points.

Baldwin 26—Verona 0

It was two in a row for the Highlanders' chargers when they met Verona at our field. The inexperienced Verona team proved no match for the fast charging Baldwin backs and when the dust of battle had cleared we were victorious by the score of 26-0. Feature of the game was the sparkling play of Captain Harold Lloyd.

Baldwin 0—Snowden 33

After a two week lay-off the gridders attempted to keep their winning streak intact against Snowden. But the "Eagles" who were the Class B pace setters of the time determined otherwise. They buried the "Highlanders" under a barriage of touchdowns.

Baldwin 0—Clark 7

After the smashing Snowden defeat the Purple and White braced and held a heavily favored Clark High squad to a 7-0 score.

Baldwin played well but they were unable to capitalize on any of their chances. Captain Lloyd again proved his worth during this game and was especially brilliant in several defensive plays.

Baldwin 9—Westview 7

Victory number four was chalked up when the Baldwinites met West View. This game was featured by the fierce tackling and blocking of the entire squad. Twice during the contest West View backs broke into the clear but each time Emil Schroepfer, Baldwin's sterling halfback, made sensational tackles and saved the day for us.

Baldwin 0—Carrick 21

Neighboring Carrick Hi was met in the final game of the season at Phillips Park in Carrick, in which many fine senior players played their farewell game; including, Captain Lloyd, Bingey, Bieltz, Barr, Ohl, Hanley, and Jarecki. Baldwin fought furiously but they were no match for their heavier and faster foe. Although the Purple and White failed to win it presented the Carrickites with many anxious moments every time a Baldwin back got the ball.

Over the line. Faculty takes time out. Watch your man.

Our football heroes in action.

A basket? A high one.

Teachers fair.

Ferdie. "Lieutenant" Coach Schricker. In formation. Bruce.

Basketball

Our Highlander basketeers of the hardwood played with all the skill they had mastered in order to keep in the W. P. I. A. L. race. But owing to the lack of height and experience, the squad couldn't keep up the pace.

The Baldwin passers went throughout the season without copping a league game; their only wins being over non-league and independent teams.

When visiting neighboring St. Wendelin, Mr. Wilkinson's and Mr. McNish's charges romped off to a decisive victory by defeating them 33-20. The point making was evenly divided up between Charles Schluter, Bruce Summers and Lloyd Kraus. Summers and Galardini threw their last pass for the Purple and White when they were beaten 40-30 by Snowden.

Those boys who earned letters this year were Bruce Summers, Captain; Ferdie Galardini, David Huggins, Joe Bartos, Lloyd Kraus, Harry Saunders, and Calvin Wazenegger.

Commendable throughout the season was the play of Kraus, Summers, Huggins and Galardini. Since there will be only two players missing from next year's roster there is a good chance that Baldwin will have the team it deserves.

"Nobody Knows The Trouble I've Seen"

"Shootin' High"

Junior High Basketball

When the Baldwin Junior High Basketball team is mentioned every loyal Baldwinite may well be proud. For the "Little Highlanders," coached by W. C. Brandtonies, have just completed the most successful season that any Baldwin athletic team can claim with the excepion of the mighty golfers.

Coach Brandtonies selected most of the present team when they were only 7th graders and guided them carefully until by the time they had reached the 9th grade they were ready to meet all comers. Co-Captains Bill Doyle and Edward Maley were spark plugs of the present team and with center Chuck Schluter they monopolized most of the scoring. Other outstanding members were Walt Lostetter, a fine forward, and Harvey Henning, a flashy guard. They are expected to present Baldwin a winning Senior varsity team in years to come. As a whole the five boys formed a great combination and when one left the lineup the entire attack sagged.

Brandtonies, minus his stars, will have to start building a Junior high team all over again with Sidney Nyholm and Phil Creelman, two experienced players, as his nucleus. Nevertheless, we can feel confident he will have a fighting "44" squad next year.

"Swing High, Swing Low"

Golf

Coach Schricker's brassie swingers swept through their W.P.I.A.L. sections with little difficulty. After meeting Snowden, Bethel, Mt. Lebanon, Bridgeville, and South Fayette, defeating them by decisive scores, the Highlanders of the fairways entered the W.P.I.A.L. golf championship.

In their semi-final game with Avonworth our golfers played true to form as they outhit their opponents on their drive and proved to be errorless on the green. By taking this contest with a score of 12½ to 2½ they advanced to the finals to meet highly traveled Penn Township High. The Pennettes proved to be champions, however, as they won the championship in this game by defeating our boys 12 to 3.

Captain Joe Kerzisnik, Bill Petrosky, and Stanley Bieltz's medal scores had much to do with the squad's success. In every game their play was consistent. The remaining boys who completed the squad were Bartos, Jarecki, Lemish, Bradish, Weigoleski, who are all dependable players.

Soccer

Soccer is a comparatively new sport at Baldwin, but this did not stop the sturdy Baldwinites from making a good showing in their first league season. Coached by Elmer McGibbeny the squad slowly rounded into shape as the season progressed and ended their schedule by holding Munhall 1-1 tie. The '42 squad was led by Kerzisnik, center halfback, who never failed to play a whale of a defensive game. Jack Schmidt, left halfback and Stan Bieltz, inside right, both of whom especially distinguished themselves last year, are co-captains of this year's team. Stan and Jack hope to lead their squad to many more victories this season. The prospects are bright for only two regulars were lost from last year's team, which won one game.

The Baldwin boys have an advantage over other school teams in so much as many of the boys have gained experience by playing with district sandlot squads. Outstanding soccer players the last year were Lemish, Bieltz, Jarecki, Schmitt, Bartos, Bradish, Weigoleski and William Petrosky.

"One, Two, Three, Kick!"

"Hip, Hip, Hooray"

Cheerleaders

"Fight, team, fight!" It's a sure sign that the cheering gang is in action. Win or lose, they're in there leading the yells of the student body and keeping up the spirit. New zest was added to the cries of the admiring spectators by an increase in personnel in the form of four boys: Bill Barth, Paul Bower, Chuck Brown, and Bob Karl. The male members of the cheering team were coached by the veterans, Casey, Grossman, and Werner, and the resulting vim, vigor, and vitality more than satisfied Baldwin hep cats.

Each year has set a higher standard for the cheerleaders and sports fans may be sure that Bill, Paul, and Chuck will continue to set a fast pace after the seniors are gone.

"Why Don't We Do This More Often"

Girls' Sports

"Hip, two, three, four," heard coming from the gymnasium isn't a WAAC leader giving instruction to new recruits; but Miss Johnson, the girls' athletic teacher. Before and after volley-ball, basket ball, and mushball seasons, marching and exercises constituted Baldwin's new physical fitness program. Being able to give as well as take marching commands was taught in the senior high classes. Exercises were of all kinds.

Intra-murals began with a successful volleyball season. The Junior high tournament was won by the 9-4's, and the 10-4's captured the laurels for the senior high.

The basketball intra-murals proved exciting to all the participants. Under the captaincy of Dorothy Parinella, the 12-3's, seniors of Miss Cornforth's room, won the basketball championship.

The traditional girls' Purple and White teams were chosen this year by the gym teacher. Eight seniors and ten juniors composed the honorary membership. The game was played on April 8th and after 40 minutes of vigorous playing the White team was victorious with a score of 23-4.

FEATURES

Dear Jack,

Here's where we tell all about the three stages of man. We have all the dope on the younger generation and news of your pals among the alumni, besides telling the past, present and future of the seniors. Popular people at Baldwin — take a look at them. We hope this brings memories.

Sincerely,
Sally and Dave.

CLASS WILL

We, the class of '43, having reached the age of eligibility for the draft or a job in a defense industry, and being generous and good-hearted seniors, do herewith accord, award, bequeath, concede, deliver, devise, endow, entrust, give, leave, present, settle upon, and will the following to Baldwin High, its students, teachers, and its traditions.

Ed Shultz leaves his love of argument to Hiland Carter.

Norma Adams entrusts her shorthand notebook to someone who will take good care of it.

"King" Karl and Billy Frederick present their curly locks to Mike Carr.

"Dutchie" Stroh leave her luck in the gym to "Do" Gray.

Bill Crawford concedes his sweet trumpet to Lou Fabian.

Grace Kirch gives her ability in the Home Economics laboratory to someone trying to find the way to a man's heart.

Harold Lloyd leaves an empty place in the sports arena.

Helene Carney endows her collection of jokes to Rita Stonic.

Eleanor Rae Shaffer bequeaths her gracious manners to Dorothy Steinhauser.

"Slitz" concedes his nimble feet to Chuck Brown.

Suzanne Lachman and Nancy Casey will their perfect friendship and special appeal to Gloria Beraducci and Nancy Weber.

Jean Klein wills her short blonde curls and sweet smile to a less fortunate junior.

John Brady entrusts his strong-arm methods to Harry Sanders.

"Ese" Beiler delivers her referee's whistle to any girl who likes to call fouls.

Jim Grimes bequeaths his Frank Sinatra voice to Jon Conroy.

Jean Darroch's industriousness goes to Margaret Barati.

John Hanley presents his peek-a-boo bang to Joe Nesbitt.

Audrey Lechner wills the dimple in her chin to Louise Ruzzi.

Arthur Collins awards his title "Baby" with a relieved sigh to Sonny Leech or Chickie Hillgartner.

Bettilou Franz wills her well-used paints and crayons to Jean Smith.

Enid Bower bequeaths her sparkling blue eyes to some fortunate junior.

Helen Grossman leaves her pep and vitality to that dark-haired sophomore, Alice Gedney.

Virginia Holshauser wills her T. N. T. eye expression to some promising boy or girl.

Ruth Cook hands her sophistication to that blonde-haired junior, Jean Neel.

Della Trainor leaves her good old Alma Mater, waving the boys good-bye.

The seniors of the fifth period study bequeath the conference room to those who have been clamoring for it all year.

Gloria Bonomi leaves still inquiring "Est-ce que j'ai le droit place?"

Louise Delfaver leaves a feeling of friendliness and compatibility behind.

Dorothy Foss delivers her mischief loving character to that popular gal, Patricia Wolfe.

Virginia Ackman takes her ability to succeed with her.

Florence Prior willingly hands her shyness and sweetness to Dorothy Oliver.

Bruce Summers bequeaths his sports writeups to another potential Chet Smith.

June Trageser bequeaths her S.A. to no one—she wants to keep it.

Ferdie Galardini presents his angelic traits and scholastic ability to next year's problem child.

Leola Betzler gives her Sciaparelli creations to a Junior who loves clothes.

Vincent Weber entrusts his way with the women to Jack O'Toole.

Evelyn Gasperin bequeaths her "perfect" attendance record to some Freshman who maintains the same daily routine.

Bob Nix leaves quietly, but with his eyes wide open.

Velia Jonardi hands her good nature over to Lois Sefton.

Bob MacLean (better known as Mary Mac) leaves still worrying about that apple a day that keeps the doctor away.

Pete Barr awards his infectious grin to Calvin Wazzenager, who really doesn't need it.

Jack Leavy leaves a trayful of dishes to be refilled by another ravenous male.

Warren Sprague leaves with "too much of Texas in his walk."

The frat boys will their sweaters to anyone who will take a faded, stretched and shrunken piece of wool like this.

Jenny Pala leaves, depriving all library friends of her consistent assistance behind the desk.

The French 2 class leaves a line of bodies strewn behind them in their haste to be on time.

Nearly all the Senior boys leave for the army, taking their G I haircuts with them.

And we leave you to enjoy the Balthi for many hours.

"As Time Goes By"

CLASS PROPHECY

For the present the paths of the members of the class of '43 are very limited, but in future years they will be happy and successful in occupations which no one else ever considered or wanted to consider. Their destinations should not surprise a wide awake reader any more than their past surprised their parents.

Five years from now———

Stella Heski will be assistant manager of the local A & P.

The leading exponent of corny humor on NBC will be Al McBride.

Dorothy Adkins will be cheerfully handing out aspirins and bandaging fingers as school nurse at Baldwin High.

Edwin Riebel will be either president of the Chamber of Commerce or a handsome movie extra.

Dolores Toogood and Gladys Nordsiek will play sweet clarinet duets in Phil Spitalny's all-girl orchestra.

Donald Zeiler will be an electrical engineer for Westinghouse laboratories.

Rose Mary Drescher will have a staff of busy typists calling her "Miss."

Charles Obringer will have achieved a peaceful existence enjoying the beauties of nature and working only when necessary.

Dorothy Parinella will already have resigned a stenographic position to make the head bookkeeper happy.

Edward Rudolph will be taking a postman's holiday by joining a cross-country hike.

Lorraine Sotler will still be keeping Dick, Bill, Dave, and the rest of the boys guessing.

Gunther Peterle is still in the Army and still a "Buck Private."

We find Jean Ruzzi the leading exponent of exhibition ballroom dancing in Arthur Murray's studios.

Jim Skyrms will be a member of the state legislature with even greater things ahead.

Ethel Peternal will be first soprano in the local church choir.

Some lucky man will be enjoying the fruits of Dolly Sevick's love of housework.

To Bill Petrosky will go the honor of being the Western Pennsylvania amateur golf champ.

Ruth Butelli has set up a profitable clientele for her grease, oil, body and fender business.

Stan Bieltz is the rival to all past pro-football champions.

Ann Bradish will be famous among her neighbors for her skill in keeping a shining well-ordered house.

Ned Barbarich will be playing his clarinet with a local band at the Saturday night dances.

Shirley Werner will be a well-dressed white-collar girl with a date nearly every night.

Melvin Bingey should be the district manager for a sporting goods firm and sponsor of the Baldwin A. C. baseball team.

Ruel Goff will be a skilled mechanic for a large trucking company.

Alice Craig is teaching little tots to sing and dance their cares away in kindergarten.

George Jance will be a metal worker or a carpenter or a bricklayer or an excavator or an electrician or something.

John Caponi will be his father's successor as a CIO organizer.

Ruth Beerbower will design and model the latest in women's styles in her own Fifth Avenue Shop.

A group of tough businessmen will fall under the spell of Tom Ware's persuasive smile and the sway of his sales talk.

Jack Schmitt is established in a profitable embalming trade in the South Hills vicinity with many Baldwinites as customers.

The gang foreman of the Horning power plant will be Steve Kostanick, who spends his spare time at the South Park golf course.

Dorothy Bashel is found in the kitchen of a downtown restaurant, concocting specialties of wide renown.

Marion Dudt, having abandoned the Bell Telephone Company, becomes a business partner in the family bakery.

We see that Tom Euler's quiet efficiency and good will have gained him numerous business contacts and friendly neighbors.

Cal Ohl is directing air-ways traffic in a little old Piper Cub that has seen better days.

Lucy Lacey will have a little daughter for the Munhall Firemen's Band.

Richard Magner will be inflicting his beloved math upon sweating pupils who "don't get it."

Gunther Beres' learned countenance will beam upon a group of fellow scientists as he explains his latest theory.

Henrietta Bommer will knit afghans for numerous nieces and nephews.

Bill Kozel and Stanley Jarecki will form the backbone of the Horning Soccer Team.

Martha Marcus would be enjoying herself as a dietician in a Children's Hospital.

Josephine Bondi will be charming the bosses in the office where she types, and files, and takes dictation, and answers the phone, and receives clients and everything.

Jean Lee will have achieved the ambition of many musicians by performing violin solos on the concert stages.

John Bowen will be a traveling salesman for the Fuller Brush Company.

Rosetta Gillotte will be giving advice to the love-lorn (from her fountain of knowledge).

Edward Lemish will be a Junior accountant for Household Finance Corporation.

Eileen Kowalski will be a grease monkey for the Butelli Motor Company.

Bill Murray will be Al Capp's successor as cartoonist in the Scripps-Howard syndicate.

Violet Zeiler will be a receptionist in the office of an escort service, where Norman Reiland will be one of the handsome heroes who are paid to date lonely girls.

Russell Welsch and his pal George Sember will own a radio shop in partnership, Russ doing the work and George running the business.

Leon Shutts will be the competitive appliance man next door.

Irene Werner will be the cashier-bookkeeper in the 5 & 10 where Helen Laukenitis is head salesgirl.

Harry Bohner will be flying a silvery transcontinental transport over a peaceful United States.

Mr. McGibbney—"Now this is a difficult one. Watch the board while I go through it."

Ohl had taken his car to the garage for repairs.

"You wouldn't think it was a second hand car, would you?" He remarked to the mechanic.

"Great scott, no," said the man, "I thought you'd made it yourself."

Teacher—"A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer."

Student—"No wonder I failed in my exam!"—Scholastic.
